

Timeline

What’s in the Met?

Clear

The Comedie of Terence

The Apocalypse

All

Living Locations

Neuremberg

Wanderjahre

Milan

Traveling

14871

Birth of Albrech Durer - May 21

1480

1481

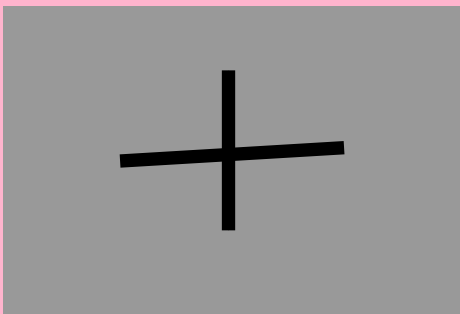

1482

1483

Anton Koberger, Durer's godfather, printed an illustrated edition of the Bible in High German, complete with many remarkable woodcut illustrations.

1484

1485

Started as an apprentice to Michael Wolgemut, the leading artist in Nuremberg at the time.

1486

1487

1488

1489

After completing his term of apprenticeship in 1489, Dürer followed the common German custom of taking a wanderjahre — in effect a gap year. Dürer was away nearly four years, travelling through Germany, Switzerland, and probably, the Netherlands.

1490

1491

1492

Anton Koberger, Durer's godfather, published the Nuremberg Chronicle in German and Latin editions.